

About Our Workshops

Padlet is an online noticeboard; it can be used by tutors and learners to post notes on a common page and can be accessed by almost any device.

Unlike a physical noticeboard, the notes posted by learners and tutors can contain links, videos, images and document files.

As a class bulletin board, learners can use it as a class document hub, a brainstorming space, a collaborative work space, and many more!

Canva is a popular app that lets you easily create images and design professional documents.

It is a free tool that allows learners and tutors to work with photo editing and design layout.

It uses drag-and-drop templates, making it an easy-to-use, powerful design tool for everyone.

As part of the ABEDiLi project, we have developed two escape room games as learning experiences in Virtual Reality. In the escape rooms, players collect literacy-based clues to solve a puzzle. We understand that Virtual Reality will play a part in the future of education and we encourage you to come and try it out!
